Drought season coming up 10 tips on how to survive the season

Strange Lights

Strange lights have begun appearing around the city of Maineral.

Several locals have reported seeing these strange pillars of light and other visual phenomenon throughout the city.

"Oy, I keep tellin' you, I saw a silvery, weird shimmer, like a Light, coming from down at the docks! You know, Down at Mastic Walk?" a local told our news reporter.

So far no known reason for the lights have surfaced.

"It was so strange, I saw this almost orange light. At first I thought it was the sun but then I realized it was in the middle of the day. I looked again and it was gone!" Another local told our reporter.

Local thugs causing trouble

Gangs, thugs and hooligans are running rampant in the city, according to a local in Craig Hill.

In the last 5 years, violent crimes have risen by almost 60%. Many believe this is due to the divide between the richer city districts and the low-income districts causing a tear within the communities of Maineral.

Weather report: Stormy

While the Drought season is still a few weeks off, today's weather is looking sunny with a bit of wind.

Towards the evening we're expecting the weather to change, however, as a bit of a storm will be coming in from the west and roll into Maineral.

Tomorrow's weather is looking to be mild but cloudy.
