Waves of immigrants “They’re flooding the city!”

Xereus the Magnificent

Xereus the Magnificent, a renowned magician and mentalist is coming to Maineral to perform a show in Rue Heights on June 5th.

The Great Magician will arrive on June 3rd and set things up for the show and will have a private showing on June 4th.

The tickets to the smaller showing are already sold out, but tickets to the main show on June 5th are still available as of this printing!

A recent spike in immigrants has caused a divide among the locals in Maineral

The divide deepens

Unrest grows as more immigrants enter the city, causing the wealth gap to widen even further.

“Those dam’ immigrants ‘r takin’ ‘r jobs!” A local told our reporter, clearly upset about the current situation. Read more about this dividing issue on page 17.

Local Bar burned down

A fire broke out in the local bar named “The Lucky Barracuda” on Hudson Green.

Fortunately, none of the patrons were severely injured, but the bar itself didn’t hold up to its name and burned down.

So far the cause for this fire is unknown.

Greasy Joe’s

Hungry? Boy, have we got the place for you!

Come on down to Greasy Joe’s at Evan’s Place for your greasy needs! We’re always willing to put in some extra elbow grease for our customers!

★ Corpse found ★

A corpse was found in an alley of Evan’s Place. That makes it the fifth dumped corpse in the span of seven days.

Some locals have started calling the suspected killer “The Odd Job Slayer”. There are so far no suspects to these string of murders.

Weather report: Clear skies

Today’s weather is looking cloudy with only a mild breeze.

Towards the evening we’re expecting the skies to clear up, however, and it’s looking to be quite a pleasant evening.

Tomorrow’s weather is looking to be quite windy, so hold onto your hats!

Local Fair coming up

A local fair will be held tomorrow at noon near the Hudson Green park.

Here you can have an opportunity to meet interesting locals, find peculiar objects and try out strange new foods! Dressing up is not required!
