Church riots out of control Wide-scale destruction within Maineral

New disease plaguing Maineral

A new sickness seem to be spreading in the Eagle Gardens District.

Little is known about this new disease, but personnel at the Eagle Gardens Hospital are feeling more than a little overwhelmed currently.

"The disease starts by spreading to the lymph nodes, which appears to be causing some swelling around the armpits or the neck. On the second day fatigue and fever appears to be setting in. We hope that this disease merely ends there, but we expect for a few people, especially those with compromised immune systems this may be a dangerous illness.", an expert at the Eagle Gardens Hospital tells us.

We will continue to monitor the situation and give an update in future articles.

Death tolls expected at about 1000-2000 people.

Church riots out of control
The current situation at the Rue Heights church sub-district has reached untenable levels.

The event is known as the "church riots", but the cause of these riots has been hotly debated. Disturbing footage from the scene shows detestably violent acts committed by the common populace. Footage also shows strange beasts prowling the area. Officials worry that this might affect other districts if it doesn't get under control soon.

Suspected serial killer found
Last night the Police arrested a man that fit the descriptions of the "Odd-Job Slayer" who has been running rampant for a while.

The man was caught attacking a woman and surrendered peacefully to the police once they arrived on the scene. He has not admitted to anything so far.

The Police at the Downtown Sub-district have so far refused to comment on the case.

Sharp Suits

Try one now.

★ Zoo deaths ★

The Eagle Gardens zoo has been forced to shut down indefinitely due to a large number of animal deaths at the zoo.

We were unable to contact anyone working at the zoo for an interview, but it appears that the zoo's hope of re-opening by the weekend has been squashed by this event.

Mysterious Magical Message!

Due to the somewhat chaotic nature of this Mage War, I have been tasked with its quickened resolution. I have therefore added a message in this newspaper, assuming, nay, hoping that you Mages out there are at least cultured enough to read the news.

Every night I will be having a set of items delivered to Maineral to give one of you an edge in this Mage War. These items include various magical enchantments and skill beads that will no doubt be useful to you.

Tonight's drop will be in the Housing Sub-district of Hudson Green. I hope whoever manages to get it will be able to bring about a quick end to this Mage War.

Local found small fortune!

A local in Craig Hill was surprised to find a large pile of what seemed to be ancient gold coins in his backyard!

These gold coins had a strange red tint, which nonetheless did not lower their overall value.

"It would appear I have a mysterious benefactor looking out for me. I shall invest these coins in a third summer house. Perhaps somewhere tropical. I have heard good things about the Kapuslan Islet.", the man told us.
