Mysterious Magical Message!

I was honestly hoping for a bit more action when it came to my little gift. Only a couple of you showed up half-heartedly and split the loot amongst yourselves. And you call yourself fucking Mages? Pathetic. Let it be known that the sword that was just given was a magical artifact capable of listening to the will of its wielder and the other trinkets were priceless skill crystals and Crystals of Potential. I will be sending a similar treasure tonight to the Mastic Walk, Docks district and I expect proper fucking bloodshed.

In addition, any information on these so-called "church riots" and this disease that plagues Maineral which has no doubt been caused by one of you donkeys will be rewarded. Contact Count Eras in Craig Hill for your reward.
